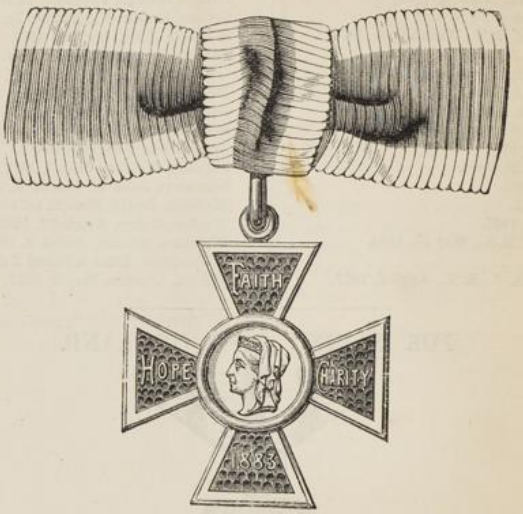
The Royal Red Cross.



THIS Decoration was instituted by Royal Warrant, dated 23 April, 1883, for the purpose of rewarding services rendered by certain persons in nursing the Sick and Wounded of the Army and Navy. Under this Royal Warrant, the following are the rules and ordinances:—

The Decoration to be styled and designated "The Royal Red Cross," and to consist of a Cross, enamelled crimson, edged with gold, having on the Arms thereof the words Faith, Hope, Charity, with the date of the institution of the Decoration; the centre having thereon the Queen's Effigy. On the reverse side Her Majesty's Royal and Imperial Cypher and Crown shown in relief on the centre.

The Cross to be attached to a dark blue riband edged red, of one inch in width, tied in a bow and worn on the left shoulder.

The Decoration to be worn by the Queen Regnant, the Queen Consort, or the Queen Dowager of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and by any of the Princesses of the Royal Family of Great Britain and Ireland on whom it may be conferred.

The Decoration may be conferred upon any Ladies, whether subjects or foreign persons, who may be recommended to Her Majesty's notice by the Secretary of State for War for special exertions in providing for the nursing, or for attending to, sick and wounded soldiers and sailors.

This Decoration may be conferred upon any Nursing Sisters, whether subjects or foreign persons, who may be recommended to Her Majesty's notice by the Secretary of State for War, or, as the case may be, by the First Lord of the Admiralty through the said Secretary of State, for special devotion and competency which they may have displayed in their nursing duties with the Army in the Field, or in the Naval and Military Hospitals.

The names of those upon whom the Decoration may be conferred shall be published in the "London Gazette," and a registry thereof kept in the office of the Secretary of State for War.

If any person on whom such distinction shall be conferred shall by her conduct become unworthy of it, her name shall be erased from the register of those upon whom the said Decoration shall have been conferred, and may be restored if such restoration should be justified by the circumstances of the case.

PRECEDENCE.

THE PEERS, BARONETS, AND KNIGHTS, AND THE COMPANIONS OF THE SEVERAL ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD, PLACED ACCORDING TO THEIR RELATIVE RANK.

RULES OF PRECEDENCE.

GENERAL REMARKS.

In the thirty-first year of King Henry VIII., Parliament, by statutory enactment, took cognizance of Precedence. It then passed the "Act for Placing the Lords," which, although it concerned directly only the Great Officers of State, and referred but incidentally to the places of the Nobility, has since been considered the chief authority for the marshalling of dignities. This Act was originated by the desire of the King, and it is declared, as a preliminary, that although it appertained altogether to the Royal Prerogative to give such honour, reputation, and placing to his Councillors and others his subjects as should be seeming to the King's most excellent wisdom, the King was nevertheless pleased and contented for an order to be had and taken in his Most High Court of Parliament for the placing of the Great Officers and Lords. In addition to this Act of Parliament, the Scale of Precedence is sustained by royal ordinances and ancient usage. The least interference, unless made by Royal or Parliamentary authority, would be destructive of the right of some one entitled to rank on the scale.

The Law of Precedence, though thus confirmed temp. Henry VIII., dates from a far more distant era than the Act "For placing the Lords." Regulations concerning it were officially issued at various periods long antecedent. The first, in point of date, was "The Order of all Estates of Nobles and Gentry of England," framed in 1339, and the last officially issued before the Statute of Henry VIII., the series ordinum of the reign of Henry VII., which Coke considers of the highest authority. The Statute of Henry VIII. was in the nature of a declaratory Act, confirming the ancient and pre-existing Law of Precedence, and, in confirmation of this, it is a matter of historical fact that the advice of Garter King of Arms was taken before the bill was brought in.

The next important decrees of Precedence were those of King James I., dated 1612 and 1616. A dispute had arisen between Barons' and Viscounts' younger sons, and the then newly created order of Baronets, as to which should take the higher place, and it was finally determined by the King himself in favour of the Peers' sons.

A leading principle of the Law of Precedence is that precedence emanates from father or husband, and cannot be derived from a female, unless in the case of a Peeress in her own right. The daughter and sole heiress of the first Duke of the Kingdom (unless a Peeress in her own right), would confer no higher precedence on her son, than if she were the daughter of a simple citizen.

It is very difficult to determine when precedence, in the descendants of Dukes, Princes of the Blood Royal, ends. Miles, in his Catalogue of Honour of the time of James I., a work of deep research, compiled from the MSS. of his uncle, the learned Robert Glover, Somerset Herald, at a period when the subject of precedence was much canvassed and considered, asserts that "Dukes descended of the Royal Blood," take place above Dukes not descended of the Royal Blood. How far Glover was borne out in this statement I have not been able to discover, but I must confess my own opinion is very much in accordance with his. At the Court of France, under the old régime, the Royal Family and its descendants were always first.

The question of the precedence of the Great Officers of State of Ireland and Scotland with reference to similar officers in England, is not provided for by the Acts of Union, and has never yet been definitely settled, unless, indeed, the placing of the Lord Chancellor of Ireland next to the Lord Chancellor of Great Britain, at the Coronation of King William IV., be deemed a royal settlement of the point. Selden is of opinion that "The lists that show practice and custom in matters of precedence, are seen in the published assemblies of the States and other solemnities of Coronations, funerals, and the like."

RULES OF PRECEDENCE.

I.—Men of Official Rank, who have higher personal precedence, are placed according to that higher personal precedence.

II.—It is Men's rank that confers precedence and regulates State Ceremonials. At the Queen's Courts, where husbands and wives pass Her Majesty together, the precedence of the husbands is that which is regarded.

III.—The Wives and Children of Great Officers of State and of all of those who derive their places on the scale from official rank, have no consequent precedence, nor have the wives and children of Archbishops and Bishops.

IV.—A Lady, having precedence by birth (for instance, the daughter of a Peer, Baronet, or Knight), retains her innate rank and precedence although married to a Commoner, but if she be married to a Peer, her precedence is that of her husband.

V.—Widows of Peers, Baronets, and Knights, on marrying Commoners, continue by the etiquette of society, though not by law, to retain their titles and precedence. At a Coronation or other state ceremonial, widows of Peers who have married Commoners are not summoned to attend; this rule was followed at the funeral of the Duke of Wellington. In society it is different, and the widows of Peers, Baronets, and Knights, married to untitled Commoners, generally adhere to the titles acquired by their first marriages, although the practice is not derived from right. Widows of "Honorables" who subsequently marry Commoners (not sons of Peers), are not allowed, even by the etiquette of society, to retain the prefix of "Honorable" after such subsequent marriages.

VI.—A Peeress in her own right does not lose her rank and precedence by marriage or widowhood; if she be married to a Peer of higher degree than her own, she has her husband's precedence.

VII.—Daughters of Peers, Baronets, and Knights, and other persons of dignity, rank next immediately after the wives of their eldest brothers.

VIII.—Dowager Peeresses, and Baronets' Widows take precedence of the wives of the existing Peers and Baronets of the same creations, from their being senior in the dignity, from their husbands having been nearer the succession; for instance, the Dowager Duchess of Beaufort has precedence of the wife of the present Duke of Beaufort; and on the same principle of being nearer the succession, the son of an existing Peer has precedence above the son of a previous holder of the same title.

IX.—Peers and Peeresses take rank among themselves, thus—I., of England; II., of Scotland; III., of Great Britain; IV., of Ireland; and V. of the United Kingdom and of Ireland, created since the Union, according to the dates of the respective patents.

X.—Maids of Honour to Her Majesty the Queen take rank after Barons' daughters, and are allowed the prefix of "Hon."

XI.—The Baronets of England, the Baronets of Ireland, the Baronets of Scotland, the Baronets of Great Britain, and the Baronets of the United Kingdom, take rank among themselves according to the dates of their respective patents. The Act of Union of Great Britain and Ireland, which fixes the precedence of the different orders of the Peerage, enacts no other precedence, nor does it interfere with or disturb in the slightest degree any other forms of precedence that might then have been in force. It is silent as to the English, Irish, or Scotch Baronets, and consequently whatever precedence their original patents conferred, is not affected by that enactment. For instance, Sir Charles Coote inherits a Baronetcy of Ireland, conferred in 1620, and, has, by right, the precedence of that date. There is no law or statute to deprive him of it, or to make him give place, for instance, to Sir Henry James Hawley, whose grandfather, Henry Hawley, was created a Baronet of Great Britain in 1795. Some argue that as the Act of Union fixed the precedence of the Peers of the Three Kingdoms, the precedence of the Baronets may be assumed by analogy; but surely no lawyer or herald would admit the power of "analogy" to destroy a right derived by Patent from the Crown.

Universitäts- und

XII.—Privy-Councillors of Great Britain and Privy-Councillors of Ireland, take rank, inter se, according to the dates of their being sworn in.

XIII.—Ambassadors yield precedence only to members of the Royal Family of the Court to which they are accredited, and to the sons and brothers of Crowned Heads. Foreign Ministers and Envoys have no real claim to precedence. The question was raised and settled at the Congress of Vienna, in 1815, but of late years place has been allowed them in this country, after Dukes and before Marquesses.

XIV.—Esquires—Armiger, or Esquire, is not, like those names given in the Statute 1 Edward VI., c. 7, s. 3, a name of dignity, but is (as is also, according to Sir Edward Cooke, Gentleman or Yeoman) a name of worship, and cannot be attached to any of the dignities mentioned in the Statute of Edward VI. The different classes to whom the title of Esquire belongs are:—

1. The sons of all the peers and lords of parliament during the lives of their fathers; the younger sons of peers after the death of their fathers; the eldest sons of the younger sons of peers and their eldest sons in perpetual succession.
2. Noblemen of other nations.
3. The eldest (and we think, if any, all the) sons of baronets, and the eldest sons of knights.
4. Esquires created expressly with a collar of SS., and spurs of silver—now obsolete.
5. Persons to whom the Queen gives arms by her own letters patent, with the title of Esquire.
6. Esquires of the Bath, and the eldest sons of those Esquires, pursuant to the statutes of the Order.
7. Barristers-at-law, by their office or profession.
8. Justices of the peace, and mayors, while in the commission, or in office.
9. Persons chosen Esquires to the body of the Prince—now obsolete.
10. Persons attending on the Sovereign's coronation in some notable employment, or persons employed in any superior office of trust (where they have discretionary power, and are not, such as clerks, merely ministerial) under the Crown, or serving in some place of better note in the Queen's household.
11. Persons who are styled Esquires by the Queen in their patents, commissions, or appointments, such as sheriffs of counties, or captains in the army and navy.
12. Attorneys in colonies, where the departments of counsel and attorney are united.

XV.—H.M. Lieutenant of a County and the High Sheriff of a County are given the first places in their own counties. Between the two the higher position appertains, in my opinion, to H.M. Lieutenant of a county.

SCALE OF GENERAL OR SOCIAL PRECEDENCE.

THE precedence indicated in the following Scale is that which is known as general or social precedence, and is admitted on all occasions and in all society. The Clergy, the Bar, the Military, and other classes have amongst themselves a certain relative rank; but such relative rank is peculiar to each of these classes, and gives them no position on the general or social scale. That scale comprises those only who enjoy dignities, or (in case of men) official appointments coming within some one of the authorities here cited of statute, patent, or usage.

The marks, or absence of marks, show the authorities.

PRECEDENCE OF SPIRITUAL LORDS.

Archbishops.

Archbishops take precedence of all Dukes next to those of the Blood Royal. The Archbishop of Canterbury ranks as first lord, and the Archbishop of York as third, coming immediately after the Lord Chancellor.

Bishops.

By an act of parliament passed in the thirty-first year of Henry VIII., it was settled that Bishops take precedence of all Barons, and immediately after Viscounts; the Bishops of London, Durham, and Winchester, preceding their Right Reverend brethren, who take rank among themselves according to seniority of consecration.

PRECEDENCE OF PRIVY COUNCILLORS.

Privy Councillors not being Peers or holding certain offices, are placed immediately after Knights of the Garter. In the Privy Council, all persons who have higher rank than that of Privy Councillor take precedence according to such higher rank. All who have no such higher rank take precedence according to the date of their being sworn into the Privy Council.

PRECEDENCE OF JUDGES, &c.

Special precedence is assigned to the Lord Chief Justice of England and the Master of the Rolls by virtue of their offices. The precedence of the other Judges (who take rank among themselves according to seniority of appointment) is as follows:—

Lords Justices of Appeal.
Vice-Chancellor.
Judges of the High Court of Justice.
Judge of the Court of Probate. In Court, as Judge Ordinary of the Divorce Court, this Judge ranks next after the Master of the Rolls.
Judges of County Courts, Serjeants-at-Law, Masters in Chancery, and Masters in Lunacy follow the Knights Bachelors, and precede the Companions of the several Orders of Knighthood.

THE KNIGHTS IN ORDER OF PRECEDENCE.

In the following Lists the numbers have been omitted from the names of those Knights who have a higher Precedence than that conferred by their Knighthood.

Where a Knight is a Member of more than one Order, the figure refers to the highest grade, and the initials of the other Orders to which he may belong are attached to his name in the Alphabetical List.

The first List places all Knights in their Order of Precedence, prefixing to each, who has no higher rank, his individual number.

The second List, arranged in alphabetical order, serves as an index to the two former Lists, showing at a glance by the prefix number, the relative precedence inter se of the Knights and Companions.

RELATIVE PRECEDENCE OF KNIGHTS AND COMPANIONS OF THE VARIOUS ORDERS ARRANGED ALPHABETICALLY.

To ascertain the Relative Precedence of Knights and Companions among themselves, it will be only necessary to have regard to the number prefixed to each name —the lower number indicating the higher precedence. For example, Sir Michael Seymour, numbered 1, takes precedence of Sir Charles Staveley, numbered 22; and Maj.-Gen. Alexander, numbered 717, takes precedence of Morgan Foster, Esq., numbered 880. The numbers are omitted from the names of those Knights who have a higher precedence than that conferred by their Knighthood. PRECEDENCE OF DIPLOMATIC AGENTS.

(In force January, 1885.)

REGULATIONS ANNEXED TO THE VIENNA CONGRESS TREATY OF JUNE 9, 1815.

In order to prevent the inconveniences which have frequently occurred, and which might again arise, from claims of precedence among different Diplomatic Agents, the Plenipotentiaries of the powers who signed the Treaty of Paris have agreed on the following Articles, and they think it their duty to invite the Plenipotentiaries of other Crowned Heads to adopt the same regulation:

ARTICLE I.—Diplomatic Agents are divided into three classes:—That of Ambassadors, Legates, or Nuncios; that of Envoys, Ministers, or other persons accredited to Sovereigns; that of Chargés d'Affaires accredited to Ministers for Foreign Affairs.

II. Ambassadors, Legates, or Nuncios only, have the representative character.

III. Diplomatic Agents on an extraordinary mission have not, on that account, any superiority of rank.

IV. Diplomatic Agents shall take precedence in their respective classes according to the date of the official notification of their arrival. The present Regulation shall not cause any innovation with regard to the Representatives of the Pope.

V. A uniform mode shall be determined in each State for the reception of Diplomatic Agents of each class.

Universitäts- und
Landesbibliothek Düsseldorf

VI. Relations of consanguinity, or of family alliance between Courts, confer no precedence on their Diplomatic Agents. The same rule also applies to political alliances.

VII. In Acts or Treaties between several Powers which grant alternate precedence, the order which is to be observed in the signatures shall be decided by lot between the Ministers.

The present Regulation is inserted in the Protocol of the Plenipotentiaries of the Eight Powers who signed the Treaty of Paris at their sitting of the 19th March, 1815.

Signed in the alphabetical order of the Courts by the Principal Plenipotentiaries of Austria, (Espagne) Spain, France, Great Britain, Portugal, Prussia, Russia, Sweden.

PROTOCOL OF CONFERENCE OF THE FIVE POWERS. AIX-LA-CHAPELLE, NOVEMBER 21, 1818. (MINISTERS RESIDENT.)

In order to avoid inconvenient discussions which might in future arise upon a point of Diplomatic Etiquette, which appears not to have been anticipated in the Annex to the Treaty of Vienna, whereby questions of precedence were regulated, it is agreed between the Five Courts, that Ministers Resident accredited to them shall form, with respect to their precedence, an intermediate class between Ministers of the Second Class and Chargés d'Affaires.

When Commanders, Lieutenants, or Sub-Lieutenants, who are Seniors to the Executive Officer, are appointed for Navigating duties, they will, in the absence of the Captain, succeed to the command of the Ship; but they are not to take upon themselves the routine duties of the Executive Officer except by order of the Captain, or in case of necessity.

Staff-Captains, Staff-Commanders, and Navigating Lieutenants, whatever their rank and seniority may be, are in all matters of command, and in all details relating to the duties of the Fleet, and to the discipline and interior economy of Her Majesty's ships, to be held subject to the authority of any Officer, not below the rank of Lieutenant, who may be in charge of the executive duties of the ship, or in charge of any other special service or duty, of whatever seniority such Officer may be.

Officers who qualify for navigating duties will be required to perform those duties, if called on to do so, until promoted to the rank of Captain.

They will be required to take a share in the ordinary duties of their ships, such as watch-keeping, acting as Divisional Officers, as in the case of Gunnery Lieutenants. But this participation in the ordinary duties is not to interfere with their special navigating duties, and is to be arranged at the discretion of the Captain.

All Officers of the same denomination in the Military Branch shall rank and command according to the order in which their names stand in the Official List of Officers of the Royal Navy; or, when not inserted in the List, according to the dates of their first Commissions, Warrants, or Orders, in their existing rank; and, if acting only, according to the seniority of their respective acting appointments; but Commanders and Lieutenants serving in a ship bearing the Flag of a Senior Flag Officer present, or the Broad Pendant of a Commodore of the First Class, being the Senior Officer present, or in the ship of the Senior Officer of five or more ships present, shall, when in the presence of, or acting

RELATIVE RANK OF THE OFFICERS OF THE NAVY AND ARMY.

The relative rank of Officers of the Navy with each other and with Officers of the Army shall be as laid down in the following List, and shall in every case take effect according to the dates of their respective commissions, or appointments, except when the relative rank is dependent on the attainment of seniority or completion of service, in which case it shall take effect from such attainment of seniority or completion of service in the particular rank.

Nothing contained in these regulations is to give a claim to any Officer of the Navy to assume command of Her Majesty's Land Forces on shore, nor to any Officer of the Army to assume command of any of Her Majesty's squadrons or Ships, or of any of the Officers or Men thereunto belonging, unless under special authority from the Government in England for any particular Service. But when Officers of the Navy are employed on shore, on joint service with Her Majesty's Land Forces, their relative rank shall carry with it all precedence and advantages attaching to the rank with which it corresponds (except command as aforesaid), and shall regulate the choice of quarters, rates of lodging money, servants, forage, fuel, and light, or allowances in their stead.

The precedence of the Naval Commander-in-Chief in India is next below the Commander-in-Chief in India, if not a Member of Council, and irrespective of their relative Military rank.

At Durbars, Processions, and other Public Ceremonies in India, a distinctive place will be assigned to the Senior Naval Officer on the spot in the absence of the Commander-in-Chief, without reference to his relative military rank.

Under the regulations formerly in force, the precedence of the Officer in command of Her Majesty's Forces in any Colony, was dependent on the question whether or not he was entitled to administer the Government of the Colony in the absence of the Governor. But the alteration of circumstances has rendered this arrangement in some cases inconvenient or anomalous, therefore it is Her Majesty's pleasure that the following rules be now observed in the Colonies in regard to the precedency of Military and Naval Officers in command of Her Majesty's Forces:—

a. The Senior Officer in command of the troops, if of the rank of a General, and the Officer in command of Her Majesty's Naval Forces on the Station, if of the rank of an Admiral, are to have precedency next after the Governor, their own relative rank being determined by the Queen's Regulations on that subject.

b. The Senior Officer in command of the troops, if of the rank of Colonel or Lieutenant-Colonel, and the Officer in command of Her Majesty's Naval Forces on the Station, if of equivalent rank, are to have precedency next after the Bishop and the Chief Justice, their own relative rank being determined by the Queen's Regulations on that subject.

c. If below the rank of Colonel or Lieutenant-Colonel, the Senior Officer in command of the Troops, and the Officer in command of Her Majesty's Naval Forces on the Station, are to continue to take rank, as has heretofore been the case, next after the Solicitor-General.

PRECEDENCE IN THE COLONIES.

The precedency of Colonial Officers is in some cases determined by Colonial enactments, by Royal Charters, by Instructions communicated either under the Royal Signet and Sign Manual through the Secretary of State, or by authoritative usage. In the absence of any such special authority, Governors should guide themselves by the subjoined table.

Table of Precedence of Colonial Officers.

The Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, or Officer administering the Government.
